Fabulous front line golf villa for sale Sotogrande Alto

Designed by the internationally renowned architect Enrique Johansson, this modern, split – level, open plan house is situated in a front-line Almenara golf position. The villa is full of natural light combined with numerous exciting design features. Utilizing a fascinating combination of glass, angles, squares and high level ceilings, high windows in the angled ceilings on the west side of the bedrooms, funnel an abundance of afternoon sun throughout the property.

The villa is situated in a prestigious and much sought after area within Sotogrande Alto, on a wonderful elevated and sheltered site (3859 m2). Settled at the end of a tree lined driveway and offering a high level of privacy, tranquility and security, the property offers uninterrupted views through a visually stunning valley, towards San Roque golf course and beyond to the Mediterranean. Due to the uniqueness of the plot position it offers both a front line golf aspect to the east and, very unusually, also to the north of the property. The villa has been maintained and continuously upgraded by a meticulous owner.
